

“It busts any preconceptions about limits on what people with dyslexia can achieve.”

– The New York Times

Could it be Dyslexia?

It is the most common learning difference (1 in 5 kids) yet the most publicly misunderstood.

Dyslexics are bright yet struggle with reading. Please join us for a discussion after we screen the documentary

The Big Picture: Rethinking Dyslexia

Directed by James Redford

Produced by Windy Borman and James Redford

Executive Produced by Karen Pritzker

52 minutes / 2012 / USA

As Seen on HBO

Parent Education Evening @ Bayside Middle School

Presented by the Bayside PAC & SD63 COPAC

October 23, 2014 7:00pm to 9:00pm

The movie will be followed by a discussion, refreshments and door prizes from vendors such as Roast!

Try to pre-register @ eventbrite.com and any questions go eventbrite.com

TheBigPictureMovie.com

